

ISOS PhD Retreat, 04. + 05.03.2010

Prepared for Social Responsibility? Understanding and Formulating Strategies for Responsible Use of Contemporary Science

Programme:

Thursday, 04.03.2010

9.30	Welcome Extracts of films addressing climate change	Avan Antia, Tom Børsen and Nicolas König
10.00	Contemporary Science Presentation of post-normal science and wicked problems	Tom Børsen and Nicolas König
11.00	Coffee break
11.30	Keynote lecture: Identifying stakeholders in the public and scientific debate on climate change	Prof. Karin Lochte
12.15	Presentation of models to analyse stakeholders' views on climate change	Tom Børsen and Nicolas König
13.00	Lunch
14.30	Group work: formulating stakeholders' arguments on climate change	support by Tom Børsen and Nicolas König
16.00	Coffee Break
16.30	Ethical theories	Tom Børsen and Nicolas König
17.30	Group work: categorising and evaluating stakeholders' arguments using ethical theories	support by Tom Børsen and Nicolas König
19.30	Dinner and social evening

Friday, 05.03.2010

9.00	Groups present the results of their discussions Who are the "crooks" and who "got it right" in the climate debate.	Facilitator: Tom Børsen
10.30	Keynote lecture: Personal experiences in the juxtapoint between science and policymaking	Prof. Andreas Oschlies
11.30	Coffee Break
12.00	Lecture: Social responsibility of scientists Introduction of group work	Tom Børsen and Nicolas König
13.00	Lunch
14.00	Group work: Finding solutions to ethical dilemmas of climate scientists	support by Tom Børsen and Nicolas König
15.30	Concluding remarks: What is good research-based policy advice?	Tom Børsen
16.00	End of Retreat	